

informed me that my days were numbered and that recovery was impossible. Still, the desire to live lingered in my bosom. I was young, and ordinarily do. I did not feel willing to abandon hope as long as a single vestige of it remained. I had full faith in the sad information conveyed use by my physicians, but still there was a lingering belief that something could be done, though I knew not in what direction to seek for the sub-deferred relief.

It was at this gloomier and eventful period of my history that I drew from the roots and herbs from which my remedies for this distressing state are now prepared. I procured and used them, and, to the utter amazement of all—physicians, friends, and neighbors—began to improve. The entire system commenced to undergo a complete renovation. Excitement, which formerly had been difficult and painful, now became reparative easy. I threw off daily large quantities of offensive yellow bile. At the same time my long lost appetite returned. I was free nutritious and wholesome. Expectoration became less copious and less offensive; exhausting night sweats ceased; the redness and burning roughly hatched; the five birds: pair departed; fresh plants hatched in the wicker frame, and with fresh come strength and full health. From the first of the week I became a fish, strong, robust man, and I have acquired much strength and fresh to this day. I used 250 pounds; I with an appetite vouchsafed to bid few men, while my pigments; I am amply equal to all the requirements of a beautiful condition of system.

Now, be remembered, all these wonderful changes were wrought by my system.

of the medicines I prepare—MANDARKE PILLS, RAWHEAD ONIC, and PULMONIC SYRUP. A cure seemingly so miraculous naturally created astonishment in the minds of those who knew me. I I literally besieged on all sides. I had visitors daily who brought me give them the remedies which had wrought the wonderful restoration and treated me from the very jaws of death. Letters were received and requests were made to inspect the secret and inform a writer where the specifics for consumption could be obtained. Others, who were too weak to travel, not satisfied with writing, sent for, and consulted in regard to their cases. To all these applications I responded as I able.

I had fully regained my health, and gratitude for the happy result tempted me to turn my attention to the science of medicine, with the hope of being able to be of service to my suffering fellow-creatures.
I devoted myself closely to my studies, and more especially to those so long and so much. I investigated it in all its fearful phases, in order to assure myself that it was not an exceptional one. The closer

I investigated this matter satisfactorily over my conclusions. I feel convinced that tens of thousands of my fellow-creatures were dying annually on consumption, whose cases were not so desperate and apparently incurable as mine had been, and I argued from this that remedies which proved so effective with me would prove equally so with others. I procured my medicines in a pleasant and attractive form, and announced their use in a calm and cheerful manner. Thousands of people, men, women, and children, who were on their way to the grave, have recovered, and are today living evidences of the fact that CONSUMPTION CAN BE CURED, and I think I may say, without arrogating to myself more than is justly due, that I have had as much success in the treatment of consumption as any other person in the country. It is gratifying to me to find that many of those who have learned that my success has been undoubtedly genuine, are now making statements to the effect that "I am cured," or "I do not meet fatal" statements, or are positive living facts of which I am the living evidence.

There is an old adage which says, "What has been done may be done again."

I have been completely cured of consumption by the treatment I now offer the public. Thousands of others have testified to similar happy re-

Full directions accompany each of the medicines, so that it is not absolutely necessary that patients should see me personally, unless they desire to have their lungs examined. For this purpose I am personally at my PRINCIPAL OFFICE, No. 16 NORTH SIXTH-ST., corner of Commerce. EVERY SATURDAY.

advice is given without charge, but for a thorough examination with Respirometer the price is $5.
Price of the Pulmonia Syrup and Seaweed Tonic, each $1.50 per bottle

J. H. SCHENCK, M. D.
 222 North Main Street, JOHN F. HENRY, No. 2 College place.

old wholesale and retail by JOHN T. HANNA, No. 5 Parsons' place
New-York, and by druggists and dealers everywhere.

The
BOY WHALER; OR, THE

YOUNG ROVERS,

THE
MOST EXCITING SEA STORY EVER PUBLISHED.
IS COMMENCED THIS WEEK IN NO. 49
OF THE
NEW-YORK WEEKLY, CONTAINING A TALE OF

—

THE
BOY WHALER
Was written expressly for the
NEW-YORK WEEKLY

BY LEON LEWIS,

author of "The Silver Ship," "The Water Wolf," "The Boy Magician," etc.
—
THE
BOY WHALER.

READY IN NO. 49 OF THE

NEW-YORK WEEKLY,

contains the most vivid descriptions of strange adventures on land and sea, in most of which the young hero, the sanctification of juvenile bravery. Every boy should read the exciting

BOY WHALER,

BOY WHALER,
which is just commenced in No. 49 of the
NEW-YORK WEEKLY.
And every young woman, also, should read the

BOY WHALER

IN THE
NEW-YORK WEEKLY,
the female mind will be enraptured with the lovely heroine, the charming LILY LAWRENCE, who shares the fortunes and trials of the

BOY WHALER.

The current issue (No. 49) of the GREATEST STORY AND SKETCH PAPER IN THE WORLD, THE
NEW-YORK WEEKLY,
should be purchased by parents and read to their children, for the great story of the
BOY WHALER
shows that, although virtue may for a time be unable to cope with vice,
it will in the end rise triumphant.

THE
NEW-YORK WEEKLY
Takes pleasure in presenting to the public the great story of the
BOY WHALER,
as it is undoubtedly the masterpiece of his author, and was written expressly for the

NEW-YORK WEEKLY.

BOYS! BOYS! BOYS!

Every boy who delights to read of daring deeds and thrilling adventures, will linger in admiration over the story of the

BOY WHALER.

Ready in No. 49 of The

NEW-YORK WEEKLY

And for sale by every News Agent in the country,
PRICE SIX CENTS PER COPY.

DON'T FORGET TO BUY NO. 49
OF THE

NEW-YORK WEEKLY,

Which contains the commencement of the

BOY WHALER.